GoodHead for Him

GoodHead Tip #1: Be Anatomically Correct

When giving him a blow job, try lingering on the parts of his anatomy that are particularly sensitive – the tip of his penis, his testicles and his perineum – the secret spot between the testicles and the anus.

GoodHead Tip #2: Give Him a Hand

Using some Mood Water-based Body Glide for lubrication, slide the Helping Hand UR3® masturbator over his penis and stroke it up and down from his shaft to his tip. When you want to turn up the pleasure, start using your mouth, taking him in as you continue to move the Helping Hand masturbator up and down.

GoodHead Tip #3: Deep Throat

When you want to taste every inch of him, deep throating is the way to go. To alleviate the gag reflex, spritz some GoodHead™ Deep Throat Spray into your mouth before going down on your partner. NOTE: Deep throating is easiest when you're in a position where your chin is high and your neck is straight.

GoodHead Tip #4: Give it Everything You've Got

Try incorporating different body parts into your blow job session. Your lips, hands, tongue, face, mouth, nipples, and breasts are all fair game! This will not only add new sensations for him but can also add pleasure for you.

GoodHead Tip #5: Put a Cock Ring On It

Put a vibrating cock ring (try the Optimale™ Vibrating C-Ring) at the base of his shaft while you are licking, sucking and stroking his penis. The cock ring will keep him harder longer, and the vibrations, coupled with the movements of your mouth, will drive him wild with pleasure.

ORAL SEX Guide

Oral Sex Positions

ORALOVE POSITIONS FOR WOMEN

Often, positions used while giving oral sex are uncomfortable, leading to an unsatisfying experience. Here are some position suggestions to make both partners as comfortable as possible, while enjoying the best oral sex.

- Draped Over the Bed First, Oralove Pleasure Wipes for Feminine Hygiene are recommended to ensure you are deliciously prepared to receive oral pleasure. Next, relax on the edge of your bed and lay back with your legs draped over the edge. Your partner then kneels on the floor between your legs, preferably on a nice, fluffy pillow. This position will allow their head to be angled down towards your vagina, with direct access to your clitoris. This position also leaves your partners' hands free to play with your nipples or finger you for double pleasure.

- Doggy Style Oral – Assume doggy-style position with your partner behind you. This is a perfect position when you want to be in control of momentum. In this position you can pull away or press back to show your partner what you're enjoying, and what you're loving!

GOODHEAD POSITIONS FOR MEN

- On Your Knees – This move is a classic for a reason! Sink to your knees in front of him while he remains standing. Make eye contact every now and then— your partner will love the sexy sight of his penis in your mouth. This position is even more potent if you're naked while blowing him. Since you'll be on your knees, you may want to try this on a thick carpet or cushion.

- Head in His Lap – Have him sit in a comfy chair and kneel between his legs. Since you can do this anywhere – under his desk, the dinner table etc.– it's the perfect position for versatile role playing! Add some GoodHead™ Tingle Drops to the mix to intensify your blow job and sweeten his package! You'll be watching his head roll back from pleasure in no time.

- Straddle Her Face – Lie down and let your partner kneel across your chest. This is the perfect position when you want to give your partner control over depth and speed. To add a little extra oomph, rub some flavored GoodHead™ Gel onto his penis before blowing him. The Strawberry flavor will activate your saliva glands to help you give the hottest and wettest head imaginable. Your partner won't believe how sexy you look as you lick and suck your way to their absolute peak of ecstasy!

Oralove for Her

- Oralove Tip #1: Take it Slow – First, warm her up by caressing her inner thighs, breathing naturally so she can feel your breath on her clitoris and on the other areas of her vulva. This will help build up anticipation. Then, once you're ready, begin licking her like an ice cream cone, in long, thick strokes that cover the entire area down there. Let your licks gradually build up in intensity before plunging in fully.

- Oralove Tip #2: Communication is Key Once you've reached a rhythm, try mixing things up. Spritz some Oralove Juicy Mouth spray onto your tongue and she'll taste like watermelon. While giving oral sex, communicate both verbally and non-verbally; ask her what she wants you to do while showing her options. Have fun experimenting and learning about your partner, and if you like what you're seeing, tasting, smelling, etc., tell her!

- Oralove Tip #3: Oh G! – Some women enjoy vaginal penetration during oral sex. Insert your fingers deep inside her and make a "come hither" motion; or give her G-spot some loving with a slim, curved vibrator like the Mood G Powerful.

- Oralove Tip #4: The Tongue Ring – Slip the GoodHead™ Vibrating Tongue Ring over your tongue to give her the best of both worlds— a warm tongue lapping her up and steady vibrations stimulating her clitoris. She'll love the multiple pleasure sensations!
