

Yesenia Perez

BRAND AMBASSADOR

DOCJOHNSON®

Yesenia Perez has been a part of the Doc Johnson family since September 2013. In that time, she's used the knowledge and experience she gained from her career outside the industry to help bring new perspectives to the sales team.

Yesenia started as a sales coordinator and then transitioned in 2017 to becoming a brand ambassador. In this role, she trains store staffs in new and classic Doc Johnson products. She focuses on Spanish-speaking clients in the US and Latin American countries.

Yesenia thrives as a brand ambassador because she is energetic, fun, and loves to connect with customers both on the road and from Doc Johnson HQ. Her ability to communicate effectively in multiple languages make her an integral part of the sales team, and she looks forward to continuing to learn and grow in her role.
